

A dream computer, A dream holiday, and a sight for twenty sore eyes.

WIN – 1st Prize, an I.B.M. P.C. system to the value of £5,000.

WIN – 2nd Prize, a holiday for two in the U.S.A. with a visit to Silicon Valley.

WIN – 3rd Prize, one of ten high resolution colour monitors.

ALL YOU HAVE TO DO

"YAH! DRESS THE APE RIGHT,"
EXCLAIMED AMOS, BUGLE SALES MANAGER.

This crazy sentence contains anagrams of four familiar pieces of computer jargon.

Each week until issue 4 we will be featuring the particular parts of the above sentence that make up one of the four words or phrases.

This week (issue 3), the well-known computer word or phrase is hidden in the words "DRESS THE APE"

HOW TO ENTER

To enter the competition, first you must correctly identify each week until issue 4 all four hidden words or phrases. Then use your skill and knowledge of computing and your sense of humour to invent a new piece of computer jargon, no more than 5 words long, and give its definition in no more than 15 words.

REMEMBER

Retain your answers to issues 1, 2, 3 and 4. Issue 4 will contain the address and rules for competition entries.

THIS COMPETITION IS OPEN TO READERS IN THE U.K. AND EIRE ONLY

