APPLICATION

FUTURE PERFECT In this final part of our robotics series we summarise what we have discussed and look to the future to see how robots are likely to develop

861

HARDWARE

PROFESSIONAL HEAVYWEIGHT The Compaq Plus is a portable that was one of the first IBM PC compatibles on the market. We see how well it has stood the test of time

869

SOFTWARE

BRAIN POWER We continue with our series on vertical software by looking in detail at BrainStorm, a package that is so sophisticated that it has been hailed as the first 'thought processor'

864

COMPUTER SCIENCE

CHART TOPPER We learn how to write the procedures to create barcharts and pie charts in LOGO on all the popular micros

873

JARGON

INTEGRATED CIRCUIT TO INTERPRETER A weekly glossary of computing terms

872

PROGRAMMING PROJECTS

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT We continue to develop our adventure game in BASIC and encounter the first of the special locations that the adventurer must pass through

866

MACHINE CODE

BBC MEMORY MAPPING Now that we have defined the important areas and functions of the operating system common to all home computers, we turn our attention to that of the BBC Micro and concentrate on its particular features

878

WORKSHOP

MICRO ELECTRONICS We progress with the construction of our robot by building four microswitch sensors and write a short program to test their operation

Next Week

● As the European market for computers expands, we look at the resultant problems involved in translating software from English.

● Research Machines has recently launched a new machine aimed at the educational market. We take a look at the Link 480Z.

● Continuing our look at vertical software, we examine some custom-built spreadsheets.

DON'T VAT THE PRESS

There are strong reasons to believe the Chancellor of the Exchequer is planning to impose VAT on your magazine.

Such a move would turn the clock back 130 years — the last tax on newspapers and journals was repealed in 1855. Since then 'No tax on knowledge' has been a principle agreed by all Governments, even in the darkest days of war.

A free Press is a tax-free Press. No Government should be given the power to impose financial pressure on a Press it may not like.

Tell your MP to say 'NO' to any tax on reading.
